

Vincent (Mansour) Planel

Polyvalent teacher
in Sciences, Languages and Humanities (English – Arabic – French)

05 6549 6546 (whatsapp +33 67067 3025)
vplanel@protonmail.com

French nationality
Currently in Jeddah on a tourist visa to explore professional opportunities
August 31st, 2022

Fields of knowledge

EUROPEAN HISTORY & CIVILIZATION
a transcultural and synthetic perspective, anthropology's added value.

PHILOSOPHY
a comprehensive intellectual culture, forged for the demands of multi-sited engagement.

MATHEMATICS & NATURAL SCIENCES
with the benefit of epistemological hindsight.

Linguistic skills

FRENCH : my mother tongue.

ENGLISH : excellent level
(pronunciation and written expression).

ARABIC : good level in Classical Arabic (fluent in the Yemeni dialect).

Teaching philosophy

An extreme sensitivity to the contextual rootedness of learning processes. I will mobilize my anthropological culture, my journeys to and fro, acquired interpersonal skills and insights on global history, to nurture in the students a solid unified knowledge, grounded in a sound scientific, humanistic and moral culture.

“Break the pattern which connects the items of learning and you necessarily destroy all quality.” (Gregory Bateson)

Biography

Born in Paris in 1980 (42 years old).

1998-2000 : Initial training in Mathematics and Physics.

2000-2005 : Student civil servant at the École Normale Supérieure (first Physics with a minor in Arabic, then Social Sciences).

2005-2013 : Anthropological research in Taiz, the Yemeni Capital of Education.

2014-2021 : Repatriation to the French city-port of Sète. Maths teacher / freelancer in social mediation and counseling.

2022 : Move to Saudi Arabia.

Teaching experience

University level

2005-2008 : Teaching assistant in anthropology

Secondary level

2015-2016 : Full-time teacher in public vocational schools (maths & sciences).

2014-2020 : Private teacher (maths, occasionally history and philosophy)

